

Receivership Suit Fails

Efforts of Philip Hoyland, who had brought a stockholder's suit against Beam Ray, Inc., in an attempt to remove the directors and to create a receivership for the concern, handling Donald Rife's ray machines, failed yesterday. After a hearing that had been held intermittently for several weeks, Judge E. J. Kelly denied the request for reorganization and for the receivership.